

CJS Notes

1-24-17

Start Time: 11:30am

4 out of 5 Officers Present

1. The first item on our agenda that we discussed today is the Rock Island Police Department Tour. This will take place on Friday March 24, 2017 at 10:00am with Lt. Timothy McCloud. We discussed ways to publicize this event through sending out the flyer via email to all students, as well as posting the flyer on the bulletin boards, and speaking about this event in our different classes.
2. The second item on the agenda regarded our first guest speaker of the semester. Quad Cities Crime Stoppers will be speaking on campus on April 4, 2017 at 11:30am in Room 2126. Detective Scott Williams, Coordinator of the Crime Stoppers, will be the person speaking. Again, CJS discussed ways to publicize this event to hopefully have a large crowd for this event! We discussed posting flyers on the bulletin boards, sending out the information via email, as well as posting information about this event on different social media sites and in classrooms.
3. The third item on the agenda was talking about Black History Month and Women's History Month. CJS brainstormed different ideas on finding historical Law Enforcement/Criminal Justice Personnel to honor during these months, and to post about on the LEJA bulletin board. We discussed possibly having a female detective, who is also a WIU student, to come speak on behalf of Women's History Month, Tammy Fox.
4. The fourth item on the agenda we discussed is the After-School Program presentation. We discussed whether this is still an interest that CJS would like to pursue, but we decided that we need more time and information about the after-school program to decide.
5. As of recent, our former Senator, Madison Krause, stepped down due to schedule conflicts at school and in her personal life. Luckily, a graduate student, Andrey Mojica, stepped up and stated that he will take over this position for the time being. He will be going to the first SGA meeting tonight. Thank-You Andrey!
6. We discussed the possibility of moving our meeting time to 12:30-1:30 due to classes causing conflict for other CJS members and officers to attend the meetings, but this has not been completely decided.
7. Andrey Mojica, who is a TSA Officer, offered to talk with his supervisor about coming to campus as a guest speaker regarding airport security, as well as a possible tour of the Quad City Airport in terms of the security and police duties and posts.

End Time: 12:30pm
